ELIGIBILITY OF CANDIDATES.

1. Candidates shall be British subjects, and unmarried. They must have passed their nineteenth, but not have passed their twenty-fifth birthday, on October 1st of the year for which they are elected.

2. An elected Scholar must have reached at least the end of his sophomore or second year's work at some recognised degree-granting University or College of Canada.

3. Candidates may elect whether they will apply for the Scholarship of the Province in which they have acquired any considerable part of their educational qualification, or for that of the Province in which they have their ordinary private domicile, home or residence. They must be prepared to present themselves for examination or election in the Province they select. No candidate may compete in more than one Province, either in the same or in successive years.

4. Only candidates who have passed an equivalent to the Oxford Responsions Examination, including Greek, or those who are exempted from Responsions by the Colonial Universities' Statute, are eligible for election.

NOTE.—The Colonial Universities' Statute provides that any University in the British Dominions may apply to Oxford University to be admitted to the privileges of the Statute. If the application is accepted, students who have taken a full course for two years, including Greek, at the Colonial University, are admitted to advanced standing at Oxford, and are excused from Responsions.

The following Canadian Universities have applied for and been admitted to the privileges of this Statute, so that candidates coming from these Universities who have fulfilled the conditions are accepted as candidates for Rhodes' Scholarships without further examination :—

McGill University	...	...	...	Montreal.
Laval University	...	...	...	Quebec.
Toronto University	...	...	...	Toronto.
Queen's University	...	...	...	Kingston.
Dalhousie University	...	...	...	Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Mount Alison University	...	...	...	Sackville, New Brunswick.
Manitoba University	...	...	...	Winnipeg, Manitoba.

In any doubtful cases of eligibility the decision of the Committee of Selection shall be final.

Candidates from colleges which do not enjoy the privileges of the Colonial Universities' Statute are required to pass the Responsions Examination of the University of Oxford or its equivalent. Arrangements are made for the conduct of this examination when necessary in each Province. The subjects and books assigned for Responsions vary slightly from year to year, and can be obtained when issued at Oxford, but the requirements for 1905 may be taken as indicating with sufficient accuracy the range of work.

Candidates were examined in the following subjects :—

1. Arithmetic—the whole.
2. Either, The Elements of Algebra,

Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication, Division, Greatest Common Measure, Least Common Multiple, Fractions, Extraction of Square Root, Simple Equations containing one or two unknown quantities, and problems producing such equations ;

Book II. The whole, excluding proposition 8.

Book III. The whole, excluding propositions 2, 4-10, 13, 23, 24, 26-29.

Any method of proof will be accepted which shows clearness and accuracy in geometrical reasoning.

So far as possible, candidates should aim at making the proof of any proposition complete in itself.

In the case of propositions 1-7, 9, 10, of Book II., algebraical proofs will be allowed.

(3) the Æneid, Books 1-5 or 2-6.

The texts used in setting the Examination papers will be those of the Series of Oxford Classical Texts, so far as these have been published by the Oxford University Press.

METHOD OF SELECTION.

In accordance with the wish of Mr. Rhodes, the Trustees desire that "in the election of a student to a Scholarship, regard shall be had to (i) his literary and scholastic attainments, (ii) his fondness for and success in manly out-door sports, such as cricket, football and the like, (iii) his qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindliness, unselfishness and fellowship, and (iv) his exhibition during school-days of moral force of character, and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates." Mr. Rhodes suggested that (ii) and (iii) should be decided in any School or College by the votes of fellow-students, and (iv) by the Head of the School or College.

Where circumstances render it impracticable to carry out the letter of these suggestions, the Trustees hope that every effort will be made to give effect to their spirit, but desire it to be understood that the final decision must rest with the Committee of Selection.

To aid in making a choice each qualified candidate is required to furnish to the Chairman of the Committee of Selection—

a. A certificate of age.

b. A full statement of his educational career at School and College; his record in athletics, and such testimonials from his masters at School and his professors at College, in reference to the qualities indicated by Mr. Rhodes, as will assist the judgment of the Committee of Selection.

c. In cases where more than one candidate from a single School or College has qualified, the School or College should be required to select (in accordance with the views of Mr. Rhodes) its chosen representative to go before the Committee of Selection for final choice, and a certificate that he has been so chosen shall be sent to the Chairman of the Committee of Selection.

Each candidate should personally present himself to the Committee of Selection before a final decision is made, unless specially excused by the Committee itself, in which case a statement of the reasons should be sent to the Trustees.

If a careful comparison of these records and personal interviews with the candidates do not furnish sufficient grounds for making a decision, the Committee of Selection is free to apply to the candidates, or any selected number of them, such further intellectual or other tests as they may consider necessary.

The Chairman of the Committee of Selection should at once notify to the Trustees and to Mr. F. J. Wylie, The Rhodes Trust, Oxford, the name of the elected Scholar, and should forward to the latter all the records, credentials and testimonials relating to the Scholar on which the election was made. These papers should be transmitted immediately, as they are used in consulting College authorities in regard to the admission of Scholars.

There are printed with this memorandum full "Instructions" prepared by the representative of the Trustees at Oxford in regard to the steps necessary to be taken by an elected Scholar to have his name enrolled at one of the Colleges of the University. It is particularly requested that these "Instructions" should be furnished to the elected Scholar along with the notification of his election.

The Scholarship will be paid in four quarterly instalments, the first on beginning residence at Oxford, and thereafter terminally on the certificate of the College that the work and conduct of a Student have been satisfactory. Without such a certificate the Scholarship lapses. A Scholarship which lapses either from the failure of a Student to secure this College certificate, from resignation, from marriage, or from any other cause, will not be filled up till the year in which it would naturally expire. This provision is made in order not to interfere with the rota of succeeding Scholars.

The following "Instructions" indicate the course of procedure by which a Scholar is entered at Oxford:—

1.—In order to be admitted to the University of Oxford, it is necessary to be first accepted as a member of one of the Colleges which compose the University.

Election to a Rhodes Scholarship does not of itself admit to a College. Every College has its own standard for admission, for Rhodes Scholars as for all other applicants; and accepts or rejects at its own discretion. Moreover, the number of Rhodes Scholars which any one College will admit is strictly limited. Few Colleges will admit more than five in any one year; and in the majority of cases four is the maximum. From the different candidates for admission, a College will select those whose records suggest that they are most likely to do credit to the College to which they may belong. It is therefore essential that, in applying for admission to a College, a Scholar should submit the fullest possible evidence as to his personal character and Academic record.

2.—The procedure for a Scholar-elect should be as follows:—

- (1) Immediately on receiving notice of his election he should write to the Oxford Secretary to the Rhodes Trustees, Mr. F. J. Wylie, The Rhodes Trust, Oxford, stating in order the Colleges which he prefers.
- (2) He should satisfy himself that the credentials which he submitted to the Committee of Selection have been forwarded by the Chairman to Mr. Wylie.
- (3) He should himself forward to Mr. Wylie any portion of the following information which may not have been included in the documents submitted to the Committee of Selection:—
 - (a) A Certificate of age;
 - (b) Testimonials as to character;
 - (c) Certified evidence as to the Courses of Study pursued by the Scholar at his University, and as to the gradings attained to by him in those Courses. This evidence should be signed by the Registrar, or other responsible official, of his University;
 - (d) A Catalogue of his University;
 - (e) Evidence as to the general tastes and pursuits of the Scholar outside his Academic Course;
 - (f) Information as to the intentions of the Scholar in regard to the line of study he proposes to follow at Oxford.

It is also desirable that the Scholar should state to what religious denomination he belongs.

All this material must reach Mr. Wylie by the beginning of the Summer Term—that is, by the end of April at the latest.

3.—When Mr. Wylie has the necessary information in his hands he will attempt to secure for each Scholar admission to the College of his preference. That will not be always possible. When a Scholar fails to gain admission to the College which stands first on his list of preferences, Mr. Wylie will enter into negotiation with the College second on that list, and so on.

Where he is specially requested to do so, Mr. Wylie is prepared to select a College for a Scholar, but it is greatly to be preferred that each Scholar should, so far as possible, choose for himself.

4.—Information about the various Colleges is to be found in the early chapters of the "Students' Handbook to Oxford," published by the Oxford University Press. It is kept in stock by the Copp Clark Company, Toronto. Scholars-elect are recommended to get it.

5.—A study of Chapter III. of the above-mentioned book will afford a rough, though only a rough, idea of the cost of life at Oxford, and in particular of the expenses which an undergraduate has to meet on coming for the first time into residence.

6.—The Scholarship will be paid quarterly. The first payment (£75) will be made in the course of the first week of the Michaelmas Term. No request for any earlier payment can be considered.

7.—The sum of £300 is no more than is necessary to cover the expenses of the year, including vacations as well as term. A Scholar must not therefore count on his Scholarship leaving any margin—least of all in his first year, in which, owing to unavoidable initial payments, expenses are heaviest. Experience suggests that a Scholar should start his Oxford career free from financial embarrassment.

8.—When a Scholar has been once accepted by a College he should conduct all further correspondence as to residence, studies, &c., directly with the College in question. He should, however, keep Mr. Wylie informed of his movements, and in particular of the date at which he proposes to come into residence. Michaelmas Term begins normally in the second week of October. Some Colleges assemble on the Thursday, others on the Friday, in that week. A Scholar must in any case arrive in Oxford not later than the day on which his College assembles; and it will in most cases be better that he should come a few days earlier.

9.—It is presumed that a Scholar will reside in College, except in cases in which the College is unable to offer him rooms. It is the custom at Oxford for an undergraduate to reside in College for at least two years, unless special circumstances make this undesirable.

Copies of this circular may be obtained from the Presidents of the different Universities, the Chairmen of the Committees of Selection, and from the Chief Superintendents of Education in each Province.

My dear Hutton,

Enclosed is an official letter, which it seems best to send to you. I hear that President Loudon has resigned, and I therefore do not know whether he is continuing his work at the University. I take it for granted that you go on as Principal of the College, and you will at any rate, be able to make the matter of the communication known in the right quarters.

Your turn for appointment to the Scholarship comes again next year, and so I suppose the young men ought to know about a change of this kind as soon as possible after the term opens. We only came to the conclusion to accept men without a preliminary knowledge of Greek after a great deal of consideration.

As far as possible, we want to widen the field from which candidates may be chosen. I dare say that many a man who would not get up Greek merely on the chance of getting a Rhodes Scholarship, would be willing to work it up if he were certain of having the chance to go to Oxford. It is pretty certain that any man selected by a University as the best candidate would have plenty of ability to get up the Greek, even in the few months that intervene between his election and his coming to Oxford. The fact that a man has taken a good stand at an affiliated College ought to be a sufficient guarantee. We shall still be compelled to exact Greek from American Scholars who can give no credentials of affiliation for their Colleges, but we are going to try the plan in all the Colonies where Universities have taken the trouble to link themselves ~~into~~ Oxford. An elected Scholar, however, should be made to understand distinctly that he cannot go ahead at Oxford towards a degree untill he has done the Greek work.

I have intended all the summer to write to you, but one gets full of many interests and it is wonderful how weeks and months slip away. We have been

Dear Professor Hutton,

A slight mistake was made on page 3 of our last Canadian circular. A corrected copy of the circular which I now enclose will show you that the words "including Greek" were put in the wrong clause. As a matter of fact, the University of Oxford gives excuse from Responsions without Greek to all candidates from affiliated Colleges, but insists on all students passing Responsions Greek as soon as they wish to go forward to any regular degree.

The Trustees have hitherto insisted that this Greek qualification shall be required of all candidates for Rhodes Scholarships before election. They have now decided that in the case of Colleges affiliated to Oxford they will accept candidates named by these Universities, even if they do not have this Greek qualification. It is thought that this will widen the field of choice among your abler men, since a man once elected to a Scholarship on other grounds of ability will probably be willing to take the trouble to learn the small amount of Greek required for Responsions, even if he did not have it before. Scholars elected on these terms should be made to understand clearly that the Greek of Responsions will be exacted from them at Oxford before they can proceed to any of the regular degrees, and that it would be well to pass the examination as soon as possible after reaching Oxford.

Believe me,

Yours very sincerely,

Geo. R. Parkin

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

STATEMENT FOR 1906.

There are now in residence at Oxford under the Rhodes Bequest 161 Scholars drawn from the different countries for which Scholarships are provided. Seventy-one come from the British Colonies, seventy-nine from the United States, and eleven from Germany.

Candidates are subjected to examination tests which ensure their acceptance at Oxford, but the final selection of Scholars is in all cases left to local Committees of Selection, guided in their choice by the suggestions made in the Will of Mr. Rhodes.

The Scholars are distributed among twenty of the Oxford Colleges. Seventeen are in residence at Balliol, thirteen each at Christ Church and Worcester, eleven each at Oriel and St. John's College, ten at New College, nine each at Brasenose, Exeter, Queen's and Trinity, eight each at Hertford and Pembroke, seven at Magdalen, six each at Lincoln, Merton and Wadham, five at University, two at Keble, and one each at Corpus and St. Edmund's Hall.

The distribution of the Scholars depends partly upon their own choice, and partly on their merits as judged by the College authorities. Each selected Scholar sends in to the Trust a list of Colleges at which he wishes to enter in the order of his preference. The authorities of each College then select from the applicants for admission those whose scholastic record and credentials seem to them most satisfactory.

The work of the Scholars, selected by themselves in consultation with their College tutors, is distributed very widely over the different courses of study organised in the University. Those who are reading in the Honour Schools for the B.A. degree are as follows:—

Of the Colonial Scholars, Canada is represented by twenty-four; Australia by eighteen; South Africa by seventeen; New Zealand, Bermuda, Jamaica and Newfoundland by three each. There has hitherto been some difficulty in finding men to take up all the Scholarships provided for Rhodesia. It is hoped that by means of the splendid bequest made by Mr. Beit for educational and other purposes in Rhodesia this difficulty will soon be remedied.

Five States of the American Union failed to furnish a qualified candidate in 1904, and eight in 1905. The educational test applied is an examination equivalent to Oxford Responsions, the first public examination of the University. In several States the competition was very slight, and scarcely sufficient to justify the award of so valuable a Scholarship.

The German Scholars for the most part remain in residence only two years, the conditions of German Military service and the requirements of their own Universities interfering with the three years' course at Oxford.

The Scholarships are of the yearly value of £300, and are tenable for three years. Experience has shown that this sum can, with prudence, be made to cover all necessary expenses during the University terms, and also during the vacations, but it leaves no room for extravagance in any form. Many of the Scholars have availed themselves of the opportunity to acquire command of the French and German languages by spending their vacations on the Continent, where the expense of living is not great.

The next qualifying Examination for Candidates is fixed for the 17th and 18th January, 1907, and the election of Scholars is to be completed and the names of successful competitors notified to the Trust before the 15th of April. Steps will then be taken by the Representative of the Trust at Oxford to distribute the men among the various Colleges. Elected Scholars enter into residence at Oxford in October, 1907.

Circulars giving detailed information in reference to the award of the Scholarships in each of the communities interested may be obtained on application to the Offices of the Trust, Seymour House, Waterloo Place, London, S.W.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

STATEMENT FOR 1907-8.

The whole number of Scholars in residence at Oxford under the Rhodes Bequest during the Academic year 1907-8 was 156. Sixty-six were from Colonies of the Empire, eleven from Germany, and seventy-nine from the United States of America. In addition to these, eleven men whose Scholarship term had expired continued to reside in the University for a whole or part of the year; one as an official Fellow, two as Lecturers, one as a Senior Demy of Magdalen, and six for further study in various subjects. Before the end of the academic year death, resignation or temporary suspension of Scholarships had reduced the numbers in residence from 156 to 151.

At the end of the summer term 54 Scholars completed their course at the University and took their final examinations, the results of which are given below.

At the beginning of the October term 1908 there was an entry of 78 new Scholars, while three other Scholars (Colonial) who had temporary leave of absence returned into residence to complete their course.

The whole number of Scholars in residence for the Academic year 1908-9 is therefore 178. These are distributed as follows among the Colleges:—Fifteen at Balliol, fourteen at Christ Church, thirteen each at Exeter and Queen's, twelve at St. John's, eleven each at Hertford, New College and Worcester, ten each at Merton and Wadham, nine at Oriel, eight each at Lincoln and Pembroke, seven each at Brasenose, Trinity and University, six at Magdalen, four at Jesus, and two at Corpus. There are, in addition, eleven ex-Scholars in residence for the October term, engaged either in teaching, research or special study for examination. The total so reached of 189 is the highest point in numbers hitherto attained.

The work of the Scholars now in residence is distributed as follows over the different courses of study organised in the University:—

Outside the University mention may be made of the following :—

During the course of the Academic year 1911-1912, 31 Scholars completed the period of their Scholarships.

At the beginning of the October Term 1912, 28 newly elected Scholars (Colonial and German) came into residence.

The 180 Scholars in residence were distributed among the Colleges as follows:—Balliol and Exeter, fourteen each; Christ Church, thirteen; Oriel, twelve; Merton, New College, Queen's, Lincoln, and St. John's, eleven each; Trinity and Hertford, ten each; Wadham and University, nine each; Pembroke, eight; Brasenose and Worcester, seven each; Jesus and Magdalen, four each; Corpus Christi, three; and Keble one.

The distribution of the Scholars depends partly upon their own choice and partly on their merits as judged by the College authorities. Each selected Scholar sends in to the Trust a list of Colleges at which he wishes to enter in the order of his preference. The authorities of each College then select from the applicants for admission those whose scholastic record and credentials seem to them most satisfactory. The number admitted to any one College is strictly limited.

The Scholars in residence were distributed among the different courses of study in the University as follows :—

discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of the differential equations of the second order.
The second part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the equations. It is shown that the solutions are continuous and differentiable. The third part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the equations. It is shown that the solutions are continuous and differentiable. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the equations. It is shown that the solutions are continuous and differentiable.

They must be prepared to present themselves for examination or election in the Province they select.

NOTE.—The Colonial Universities Statute provides that any University in the British Dominions may apply to Oxford University to be admitted to the privileges of the Statute. If the application is accepted, students who have taken a full course for two years at the Colonial University are admitted to advanced standing at Oxford, and are excused from Responsions.

The following Canadian Universities have applied for and been admitted to the privileges of this Statute, so that candidates coming from these Universities who have fulfilled the conditions are accepted as candidates for Rhodes Scholarships without further examination :—

In any doubtful cases of eligibility the decision of the Committee of Selection shall be final.

Candidates from colleges which do not enjoy the privileges of the Colonial Universities Statute are required to pass the Qualifying Examination of the University of Oxford equivalent to Responsions. Arrangements are made for the conduct of this examination when necessary in each Province. The subjects and books assigned for this examination vary slightly from year to year, and can be obtained when issued at Oxford.

The texts used in setting the Examination Papers will be those of the Series of Oxford Classical Texts, so far as these have been published by the Oxford University Press.

METHOD OF SELECTION.

In accordance with the wish of Mr. Rhodes, the Trustees desire that "in the election of a student to a Scholarship, regard shall be had to (i) his literary and scholastic attainments, (ii) his fondness for and success in manly outdoor sports, such as cricket, football, and the like, (iii) his qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindliness, unselfishness, and fellowship, and (iv) his exhibition during schooldays of moral force of character, and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates." Mr. Rhodes suggested that (ii) and (iii) should be decided in any School or College by the votes of fellow-students, and (iv) by the head of the School or College.

Where circumstances render it impracticable to carry out the letter of these suggestions, the Trustees hope that every effort will be made to give effect to their spirit, but desire it to be understood that the final decision must rest with the Committee of Selection.

To aid in making a choice each qualified candidate is required to furnish to the Chairman of the Committee of Selection—

a. A Certificate of age.

b. A full statement of his educational career at School and College; his record in athletics, and such testimonials from his masters at School and his professors at College, in reference to the qualities indicated by Mr. Rhodes, as will assist the judgment of the Committee of Selection.

Each candidate should personally present himself to the Committee of Selection before a final decision is made, unless specially excused by the Committee itself, in which case a statement of the reasons should be sent to the Trustees.

If a careful comparison of these records and personal interviews with the candidates do not furnish sufficient grounds for making a decision, the Committee of Selection is free to apply to the candidates, or any selected number of them, such further intellectual or other tests as they may consider necessary.

The Chairman of the Committee of Selection should at once notify to the Trustees and to Mr. F. J. Wylie, 9, South Parks Road, Oxford, the name of the elected Scholar, and should forward to the latter all the records, credentials, and testimonials relating to the Scholar on which the election was made. These papers should be transmitted immediately, as they are used in consulting College authorities in regard to the admission of Scholars.

There are printed with this Memorandum full "Instructions" prepared by the representative of the Trustees at Oxford in regard to the steps necessary to be taken by an elected Scholar to have his name enrolled at one of the Colleges of the University. It is particularly requested that these "Instructions" should be furnished to the elected Scholar along with the notification of his election.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SCHOLARS ELECT.

1. In order to be admitted to the University of Oxford, it is necessary to be first accepted as a member of one of the Colleges which compose the University.

Election to a Rhodes Scholarship does not of itself admit to a College. Every College has its own standard for admission, for Rhodes Scholars as for all other applicants, and accepts or rejects at its own discretion. Moreover, the number of Rhodes Scholars which any one College will admit is strictly limited. In the great majority of cases four is the maximum. It is therefore essential that, in applying for admission to a College, a Scholar should submit evidence as to his character and attainments.

2. The procedure for a Scholar elect should be as follows :—

- (1) Immediately on receiving notice of his election he should write to the Oxford Secretary to the Rhodes Trustees, Mr. F. J. Wylie, 9, South Parks Road, Oxford, stating in order the Colleges which he prefers. This list should contain the names of at least six Colleges.

(2) He should satisfy himself that the credentials which he submitted to the Committee of Selection have been forwarded to Oxford.

(3) He should himself forward without delay any portion of the following information which may not have been included in the documents submitted to the Committee of Selection:

(a) A certificate of age.

(b) A few testimonials.

(d) A Calendar of his University.

(e) Information as to the line of study which he proposes to follow at Oxford.

It is also desirable that the Scholar should state to what religious denomination he belongs.

3. Information as to the courses of study at Oxford and as to the different Colleges is to be found in "Oxford and the Rhodes Scholarships" (by R. Scholz and S. K. The sum of £300 is no more than is necessary to cover the expenses of the year, allowing for vacations. A Scholar must not, therefore, count on his Scholarship leaving any margin. It is even desirable that he should bring a little money with him.

5. When a Scholar has been once accepted by a College he should conduct all further correspondence as to residence, studies, &c., directly with the College in question. 3. Candidates may elect whether they will apply for the Scholarship of the Province in which they have acquired any considerable part of their educational qualification, or for that of the Province in which they have their ordinary private domicile, home, or residence. They must be prepared to present themselves for examination or election in the Province they select.

NOTE.—The Colonial Universities Statute provides that any University in the British Dominions may apply to Oxford University to be admitted to the privileges of the Statute. If the application is accepted, students who have taken a full course for two years at the Colonial University are admitted to advanced standing at Oxford, and are excused from Responsions.

The following Canadian Universities have applied for and been admitted to the privileges of this Statute, so that candidates coming from these Universities who have fulfilled the conditions are accepted as candidates for Rhodes Scholarships without further examination :—

McGill University	...	...	...	...	Montreal.
Laval University	...	...	...	...	Quebec
Toronto University	...	...	...	...	Toronto.

University of Saskatchewan	...	...	...	...	Saskatoon.

In any doubtful cases of eligibility the decision of the Committee of Selection shall be final.

Candidates from colleges which do not enjoy the privileges of the Colonial Universities Statute are required to pass the Qualifying Examination of the University of Oxford equivalent to Responsions. Arrangements are made for the conduct of this examination when necessary in each Province. The subjects and books assigned for this examination vary slightly from year to year, and can be obtained when issued at Oxford.

The texts used in setting the Examination Papers will be those of the Series of Oxford Classical Texts, so far as these have been published by the Oxford University Press.

METHOD OF SELECTION.

In accordance with the wish of Mr. Rhodes, the Trustees desire that "in the election of a student to a Scholarship, regard shall be had to (i) his literary and scholastic attainments, (ii) his fondness for and success in manly outdoor sports, such as cricket, football, and the like, (iii) his qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindliness, unselfishness, and fellowship, and (iv) his exhibition during schooldays of moral force of character, and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates." Mr. Rhodes suggested that (ii) and (iii) should be decided in any School or College by the votes of fellow-students, and (iv) by the head of the School or College.

Where circumstances render it impracticable to carry out the letter of these suggestions, the Trustees hope that every effort will be made to give effect to their spirit, but desire it to be understood that the final decision must rest with the Committee of Selection.

To aid in making a choice each qualified candidate is required to furnish to the Chairman of the Committee of Selection—

a. A Certificate of age.

b. A full statement of his educational career at School and College; his record in athletics, and such testimonials from his masters at School and his professors at College, in reference to the qualities indicated by Mr. Rhodes, as will assist the judgment of the Committee of Selection.

Each candidate should personally present himself to the Committee of Selection before a final decision is made, unless specially excused by the Committee itself, in which case a statement of the reasons should be sent to the Trustees.

If a careful comparison of these records and personal interviews with the candidates do not furnish sufficient grounds for making a decision, the Committee of Selection is free to apply to the candidates, or any selected number of them, such further intellectual or other tests as they may consider necessary.

The Chairman of the Committee of Selection should at once notify to the Trustees and to Mr. F. J. Wylie, 9, South Parks Road, Oxford, the name of the elected Scholar, and should forward to the latter all the records, credentials, and testimonials relating to the Scholar on which the election was made. These papers should be transmitted immediately, as they are used in consulting College authorities in regard to the admission of Scholars.

There are printed with this Memorandum full "Instructions" prepared by the representative of the Trustees at Oxford in regard to the steps necessary to be taken by an elected Scholar to have his name enrolled at one of the Colleges of the University. It is particularly requested that these "Instructions" should be furnished to the elected Scholar along with the notification of his election.

Unless specially exempted, Scholars will be expected (1) to reside in College for at least two years and (2) to take any degree for which they may have qualified.

The Scholarship will be paid in four quarterly instalments, the first on beginning residence at Oxford, and thereafter terminally on the certificate of the College that the work and conduct of a Student have been satisfactory. Without such a certificate the Scholarship lapses. A scholarship which lapses either from the failure of a student to secure this College certificate, from resignation, from marriage, or from any other cause, will not be filled up till the year in which it would naturally expire. This provision is made in order not to interfere with the rota of succeeding Scholars.

My desire being that the students who shall be elected to the Scholarships shall not be merely bookworms, I direct that in the election of a student to a scholarship regard shall be had to (i) to his literary and scholastic attainments (ii) his fondness of and success in many outdoor sports, such as cricket, football, and the like; (iii) his qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for the protection of the weak, kindness, unselfishness, and fellowship; and (iv) his exhibition during school days of moral force of character, and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his school mates, for these latter attributes will be likely in after life to guide him to esteem the performance of public duties as his highest aim. As mere suggestions for the guidance of those who will have the choice of students for the scholarships, I record that (i) my ideal qualified students would combine these four qualifications in the proportions of three-tenths for the first, two-tenths for the second, three-tenths for the third, and two-tenths for the fourth qualifications, so that, according to my ideal, if the maximum number of marks for any scholarship were 200 they would be apportioned as follows: sixty to each of the first and third qualifications and forty to each of the second and fourth qualifications: (ii) the marks for the several qualifications would be awarded independently as follows (that is to say): The marks for the first qualification by examination, for the second and third qualifications, respectively, by ballot by the fellow students of the candidates, and for the fourth qualification by the head-master of the candidate's school: and (iii) the results of the awards (that is to say, the marks obtained by each candidate for each qualification) would be sent as soon as possible for consideration to the trustees or to some person or persons appointed to receive the same, and the person or persons so appointed would ascertain by averaging the marks in blocks of twenty marks each of all candidates the best ideal qualified students.

In the course of this year the Oxford University Athletic Club has passed two regulations which have some interest for Rhodes Scholars. The first is to the effect that no one shall compete in the Freshmen's Sports who has been at a University before coming to Oxford. The second is to the effect that no one above the age of 24 shall compete in the Athletic Sports which are held at Oxford every Lent Term by way of Trial for the Inter-University Sports. There does not seem to be anything unreasonable in the principle of an age limit which applies to all Students at the University; nor yet in the attempt to secure, so far as is possible, that competitors in the Freshmen's Sports shall be, from the point of view of University Athletics, novices rather than trained athletes.

In the course of this year the Oxford University Athletic Club has passed two regulations which have some interest for Rhodes Scholars. The first is to the effect that no one shall compete in the Freshmen's Sports who has been at a University before coming to Oxford. The second is to the effect that no one above the age of 24 shall compete in the Athletic Sports which are held at Oxford every Lent Term by way of Trial for the Inter-University Sports. There does not seem to be anything unreasonable in the principle of an age limit which applies to all Students at the University; nor yet in the attempt to secure, so far as is possible, that competitors in the Freshmen's Sports shall be, from the point of view of University Athletics, novices rather than trained athletes.

The next election of Scholars for the Dominions and Colonies of the Empire will take place towards the end of 1915. For those Colonies where qualification is not obtained through the affiliation of the local Universities with the University of Oxford, the next qualifying examination will be held in October 1915.

CHANGE IN THE SYSTEM OF ELECTION IN THE UNITED STATES.

Circumstances connected with the administration of the Scholarship System at Oxford have compelled the Trustees to make a change in the method of selecting Scholars throughout the United States.

Hitherto Scholars have been elected in all the States of the Union in two successive years, while in each recurring third year none were chosen. This method of election has complicated the problem of allocating the Scholars among the various colleges, in which the space for residence is strictly limited.

The Trustees have accordingly decided to spread the election of Scholars over three years. To effect this change, Scholars will hereafter be elected from 32 States each year. The 48 States have for this purpose been divided into three groups (A, B and C) of sixteen each.

For the year 1916 Scholars will be elected from groups A and B; for 1917 from groups A and C; and for 1918 from B and C, and subsequently in the same combination year by year.

The group C, in which no election will be held for 1916, consists of those States which have furnished the least competition since the organization of the Scholarship System.

In order that all Candidates may be able to take the qualifying examination at the time that best suits their preparation or purposes, this examination will be held each year (in the month of October) in all the States of the Union. Candidates may take the examination in any year and, if they pass, offer themselves for election in any subsequent year without further examination, provided that they satisfy the other conditions of eligibility.

The division of the States into groups for the purpose above mentioned is as follows :—

A.	B.	C.
Maine	California	Arizona
New Hampshire	Washington	Delaware
Vermont	Oregon	Florida
Massachusetts	Colorado	Idaho
Rhode Island	Nebraska	Louisiana
Connecticut	Kansas	Montana
Pennsylvania	Minnesota	Nevada
New York	Wisconsin	New Mexico
Maryland	Michigan	North Carolina
New Jersey	Missouri	North Dakota
Virginia	Iowa	Oklahoma
Ohio	Georgia	South Carolina
Indiana	Texas	South Dakota
Kentucky	Alabama	Utah
Illinois	Arkansas	West Virginia
Tennessee	Mississippi	Wyoming

The next Qualifying Examination will be held in all the States of the Union on Tuesday the 5th, and Wednesday the 6th of October, 1915.

Circulars giving detailed information in reference to the award of the Scholarships in each of the communities interested may be obtained on application to the Offices of the Trust.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

STATEMENT FOR 1914-1915.

The War has continued through 1914-1915 to interfere seriously with the normal operation of the Scholarship System, as it has with University life generally throughout the Empire.

Nearly all the Colonial Undergraduate Scholars have entered the Imperial Service for the period of the War. In all cases the Trustees have granted leave of absence to such Scholars, reserving to them the right to resume their Scholarships when they are set free from Military Service.

Only 18 Colonial Scholars continued in residence up to the end of last term. Of these 5 have either obtained or applied for Commissions; 4 are unable to serve for reasons of health or defective eyesight; and 6, who are pursuing a medical course, are advised to continue this work at the University.

Permission to postpone entrance at Oxford has also been granted to Colonial Scholars elected for 1916, so as to leave them free to respond to the call of national duty.

Up to the present time 167 Scholars and ex-Scholars are known to have taken Commissions or enlisted in the Imperial Army and its Colonial Contingents. Of these, South Africa has contributed 53, Australia 43, Canada 42, Bermuda 8, Jamaica 8, Newfoundland 6, New Zealand 6, The United States 1. The list of ex-Scholars taking service increases as new Contingents are formed in the Dominions and Colonies.

It is known that the following six Colonial Scholars or ex-Scholars have already lost their lives in fighting for the Empire:—

- R. O. LAGDEN, South Africa, 1908 (Oriel).
- D. P. STEPHENSON, Jamaica, 1911 (Lincoln).

A. W. MOREY, South Australia, 1914 (Magdalen).
C. S. KING, Tasmania, 1911 (Corpus Christi).

Leave of absence has been granted for varying periods to a number of American Scholars, who have wished to assist in the war work of the Red Cross Society and the Young Men's Christian Association, or in the administration of relief to the suffering populations of Belgium and Serbia. The assistance thus given has been gratefully acknowledged. The total number of American Scholars in residence during the whole or a part of the year was 87.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

STATEMENT FOR 1915-1916.

The War has continued throughout the past Academic Year to interfere with the normal operation of the Scholarship System.

The Trust has pursued its policy of giving leave to all Scholars from the Dominions and Colonies who take service in the Imperial Army or the Colonial Contingents, with the right of resuming their Scholarships when the war is over and they are free to take up residence at Oxford.

Leave of absence has also been granted to Scholars from the United States who wished to take part in the work of the Red Cross Society and Young Men's Christian Association.

Twenty-six new Scholars (all Colonial) were elected for 1915, of whom seventeen took military service without coming into residence.

There have been in residence at Oxford during the whole or part of the year ninety-four Scholars, of whom seventy-six were American and eighteen Colonial. Of the Colonials, five have taken Commissions or enlisted after being in residence for part of the year and one at the close of the Academic year, two have engaged in munition work, whilst six continued their medical course at the University in accordance with advice.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

STATEMENT FOR 1916-1917.

Throughout the past Academic Year the War has interfered increasingly with the operation of the Scholarship System.

At the close of 1916 the American Section of the Scholarships was still barely affected ; but on the entry of the United States into the War the difference between American and Colonial Rhodes Scholars naturally ceased to exist.

Largely as a consequence of the new situation thus created, the Trustees have decided to postpone for the present all further election to Scholarships. This will not, however, interfere with the holding of the Annual Qualifying Examination in the United States, or in Colonies where qualification is not obtained through affiliation of local Universities with the University of Oxford.

The Trust has continued its policy of giving Scholars leave of absence for the duration of the War, with the right to resume or commence their Scholarships when the War is over, or earlier should circumstances make that possible.

For the year 1916 fifty-seven Scholars were elected, twenty-five Colonials and thirty-two Americans. Of these there came into residence in October, 1916, three Colonials (of whom one enlisted in the course of his first term) and twenty-seven Americans.

Altogether, there were in residence at Oxford for some part of the year eighty-five Rhodes Scholars, of whom seventy-one were American and fourteen Colonial. Of the seventy-one Americans, the great majority are now serving in the United States Army.

For the year 1917-1918, there are at present eight Rhodes Scholars in residence—six Colonial and two American. Of the six Colonials, five are medical students ; and of these five, two have already seen service. Of the two Americans, one has returned from a year's ambulance work on the French front, and is temporarily engaged in Government work in the University Chemical Laboratory ; while the other has been rejected, on medical grounds, for military service.

In addition to the above, one ex-Scholar has returned after three years' military service in France, to complete his medical course.

The Scholarships set free under the Act of Parliament cancelling the German Rhodes Scholarships have been allotted as follows :—

- One to the Transvaal.
 - One to the Orange Free State.
 - One to Alberta and Saskatchewan (which have hitherto had only one between them).
 - One to Kimberley and Port Elizabeth alternately (Kimberley to select in the first year).

The following Scholars and ex-Scholars have given their lives in the service of the Empire since the issue of the last Statement :—

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

STATEMENT FOR 1916-1917.

Throughout the past Academic Year the War has interfered increasingly with the operation of the Scholarship System.

At the close of 1916 the American Section of the Scholarships was still barely affected; but on the entry of the United States into the War the difference between American and Colonial Rhodes Scholars naturally ceased to exist.

Largely as a consequence of the new situation thus created, the Trustees have decided to postpone for the present all further election to Scholarships. This will not, however, interfere with the holding of the Annual Qualifying Examination in the United States, or in Colonies where qualification is not obtained through affiliation of local Universities with the University of Oxford.

The Trust has continued its policy of giving Scholars leave of absence for the duration of the War, with the right to resume or commence their Scholarships when the War is over, or earlier should circumstances make that possible.

For the year 1916 fifty-seven Scholars were elected, twenty-five Colonials and thirty-two Americans. Of these there came into residence in October, 1916, three Colonials (of whom one enlisted in the course of his first term) and twenty-seven Americans.

Altogether, there were in residence at Oxford for some part of the year eighty-five Rhodes Scholars, of whom seventy-one were American and fourteen Colonial. Of the seventy-one Americans, the great majority are now serving in the United States Army.

For the year 1917-1918, there are at present eight Rhodes Scholars in residence—six Colonial and two American. Of the six Colonials, five are medical students; and of these five, two have already seen service. Of the two Americans, one has returned from a year's ambulance work on the French front, and is temporarily engaged in Government work in the University Chemical Laboratory; while the other has been rejected, on medical grounds, for military service.

In addition to the above, one ex-Scholar has returned after three years' military service in France, to complete his medical course.

The Scholarships set free under the Act of Parliament cancelling the German Rhodes Scholarships have been allotted as follows :—

- One to the Transvaal.
 - One to the Orange Free State.
 - One to Alberta and Saskatchewan (which have hitherto had only one between them).
 - One to Kimberley and Port Elizabeth alternately (Kimberley to select in the first year).

The following Scholars and ex-Scholars have given their lives in the service of the Empire since the issue of the last Statement :—

- B. E. ATKINS, British Columbia, 1914 (Hertford).

The war has continued through the past year to interfere with the operation of the Scholarship System.

Only nine Scholars were in residence during the year. Of these four had previously been on Active Service; two had been rejected for Service on medical grounds, and three were carrying on their medical studies with a view to early qualification.

ADMISSION TO READ FOR ADVANCED DEGREE.

The following Scholar was admitted in the course of the year to read for an Advanced Degree :—

B.Sc.—M. D. THOMAS, Utah, 1914 (Lincoln), in Natural Science.

Mr. J. C. V. BEHAN, Victoria, 1904, after a distinguished career as a Scholar at Oxford and more than ten years' work as Lecturer and Fellow of University College, has been appointed Warden of Trinity College, Melbourne.

The election of Scholars, postponed on account of the war, will be resumed in October of the present year (1919). It is hoped that by that time the demobilization of the Armies will be so far completed that intending candidates who have taken military service will have an opportunity to compete.

The accumulation of postponed Scholarships raises at Oxford certain difficulties owing to the inability of the Colleges to receive more than a limited number of our Scholars at any one time, especially in view of the fact that there is a corresponding accumulation of other applicants who would naturally have come into residence during the last four years.

In order to meet these difficulties, it is proposed to fill up in October of this year only the 1918 and 1919 postponed Scholarships.

The Scholars elected then for the year 1918 will be expected to come into residence, so far as possible, in January, 1920; those elected for the year 1919 will enter in October, 1920.

In the same way, the Scholars for 1920 and 1921 will be elected in October, 1920, the former coming into residence, so far as possible, in January, 1921, the latter in October, 1921.

After 1920 the elections will resume their normal course.

During the years 1917 and 1918 the Organizing Secretary of the Trust, Dr. G. R. PARKIN, C.M.G., visited most of the States of the American Union and the Provinces of Canada, and made an exhaustive study, in consultation with University and College Authorities, of the operation in those countries of the system pursued in the selection of Scholars since the foundation of the Trust. As a result of this investigation, certain changes in the methods of selection have been under consideration.

Among other changes, it has been decided that candidates in the United States, who are otherwise eligible, shall no longer be required to pass a Qualifying Examination, but shall be selected, with due reference to the suggestions of Mr. RHODES, on the basis of their University or College standing, subject to any further test which the Committees of Selection may, in their discretion, impose.

As a temporary war measure Oxford University has decided to exempt from the Responsions Examination men who have been on military service for six months or more. Candidates for the Scholarships, not otherwise qualified, who come under this category will be allowed to compete without examination. This exemption concerns chiefly Candidates from Colonies like Jamaica and Bermuda, who have hitherto qualified by passing Responsions, or its equivalent.

Professor FRANK AYDELOTTE, B.Litt., Indiana, 1905, of the Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Massachusetts, has been appointed American Secretary to the Trust, and may be consulted on questions connected with the administration of the Scholarships in the United States.

The Circulars giving detailed information in reference to the award of the Scholarships in each of the communities to which they are assigned are being revised to meet the new conditions referred to above, and will be ready for distribution at an early date. Any further information may be obtained on application to the Offices of the Trust.

Cable Address :—"Augury, London."

The Rhodes Scholarship Trust.

SEYMOUR HOUSE,
WATERLOO PLACE, S.W.

22nd February 1919.

My dear Sir Robert,

I did not answer your note about young Lt. Griffin, as I had written to his father about him. Our first difficulty is to find out where he is at the present time. I have not yet succeeded in this but enquiry is being made. When we can locate him I shall do everything possible to get him demobilised if he is fit for University work. Neither you nor his father gave me the precise direction for finding him in the Army and that increases the difficulty.

We have now concluded our arrangements for resuming the election of Rhodes Scholars this Autumn. The situation at Oxford compels us to make exceptional plans in working off the accumulation of postponed Scholarships. In this connection I want to impose on your good nature for some assistance. I am enclosing letters addressed to your principal Toronto, Ottawa and Kingston papers, also to the Hamilton "Spectator". Is it too much to ask you that you should post these letters so that they will reach the papers on the same day? If I sent them from here they might be received at different times and journalists do not like to be anticipated in their news. I have no Canadian postage to put on them so must trust your generosity for this.

You will see that we are allowing you to name the scholar for 1917 when you made no appointment. Queen's nominates for 1918. Some time before the end of the year when the arrangements for our new system are completed, involving open competition from all the universities of the Province, another Scholar, will be chosen. We shall have to elect two next year also before the old annual election can be resumed.

It looks as if there were going to be a great rush of students towards Oxford before very long. Balliol is already quite full and altogether more than 1,000 men are back.

You will see that I have left the date of your election in your own hands. Your decision about it will naturally depend on its being fair for possible candidates who have been serving. You may think it necessary to wait for this purpose till October. On the other hand if you already feel confident about the man you ought to send there is no reason why he should not be chosen so as to enter Oxford either after Easter or after the Long Vacation, but it must not be later than next January.

Dr Tory thinks that for the Western Universities it may be a wise plan to make selections from the students at work in his Khaki University, of whom there are several hundreds. I am communicating with the Western Provinces about this. I cannot say whether this idea has any application to your possible candidates.

It is very sad about Sir William Peterson and Dr Wesbrook. Sir Wilfred's death, too, removes one of our greatest figures, perhaps the greatest. We belong to a generation which is leaving the stage.

Sith kindest regards,

Believe me,

Yours most sincerely,

George B. Parkin
